ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS HIGH CARNIVAL

On Monday evening the Athletic Association of Union College gave a banquet to the students and a few citizens which proved a very pleasant social function. Aunt Mae Wallace and her assistants put on a delicious spread which received the earnest attention of all present. W. B. Trosper, U. C. coach, acted as toast master in an able manner. After a compliment to Aunt Mae and expressing his appreciation to the faculty and the student body, he asked that all help make the football season of next year a success.

Dr. Franklin, responding to a toast, spoke of the fine work done by Miss Mildred Murphy, Miss Corn Sevier and Coach Trosper. He said he attributed the success of the teams to the clean lives of the players and the esprit de corps of the students generally. He recalled the remark of a train conductor to the effect that when Union College students travel on their tour they always behave like ladies and gentlemen and attributed this fact to the atmosphere of Christian refinement to be found at U. C.

Governor James D. Black made a humorous talk stating he knew not a thing of athletics but praised the morale of the students. He told of the first attempt to play baseball at his college when a boy. The president took the "stick" in his hand, the ball ran up it and bounced onto the president's nose which bled copiously. As a consequence the president thereupon lost all interest in baseball for the college.

The editor made a fine address of one half minute by a stop watch. He was followed by Dr. McLean who is full of racy humor and kept the students amused right along. He said, however, that he has acquired a special affection for Union College which is miles ahead of other colleges he knows. He spoke in most positive terms of the possibility of putting thru the Endowment campaign.

Dr. George M. Klepfer then led the students in a round of college song and all dispersed well pleased with an excellent time.

METHODIST CHURCH

The revival meeting conducted by the Rev. Carl E. Vogel closed last Sunday. The work of Mr. Vogel was in every way very acceptable and telling. The church was lifted to a higher plane of spiritual living. On Sunday morning thirty-five were admitted into the church in full connection and in the evening five more making a total of forty. There are still others to come in and on next Sunday the opportunity will be given to those that wish to take their church membership with us.

Next Sunday the pastor, Rev. John Owen Gross, will preach at both the morning and evening services. Sunday School at 9:45. Last Sunday 322 were present at S. S. This Sunday we want at least an equal number. Epworth League at 6 p.m.

LOCAL KIWANIS

Bump Into Good Fellowship

Tuesday night was marked by a big milestone in the development of good fellowship and progress in Barbourville and Knox County, as well we hope too, for the State at large.

A. Selig, of Knoxville, Tenn., the big and genial Field Representative of Kiwanis International, had the obsequies of selfishness in charge together with cliquism and misunderstanding had buried them with a tombstone at their head and feet. In their place he reared the standard of unity and unselfish service. We believe it to be one of the biggest things that has been done for Barbourville and the boys who gave their time and energy to make Kiwanis a real thing are to be congratulated for what they have done.

About fifty sat down to a first class meal in the dining room of the Jones Hotel which meal received the hearty approbation of the boys. After the feed all entered into the spirit of the rollicking Kiwanis songs. Those who have voices made music and those who haven't pretended they had and the result was a happy Duke's mixture of sound that pleased everybody.

Mr. Selig explained that Kiwanis has for its slogan, "We Build," indicating that it is a constructive force. What it requires of its members is to exercise fairness and integrity, or in other words, that they be good Indians.

The Kiwanis was started in Detroit in 1915 and there are now 746 clubs with a membership of 66,000 which proves its usefulness and popularity. It has had the most outstanding success among luncheon clubs in growth and accomplishment of any in the country.

The three principal features of Kiwanis are good fellowship, the educational touch and the development of town, county, state and nation. It is a clearing house for ideas with from 50 to 75 hand-picked men working together for the common good. It answers the old saying, "If they would do—etc."

The speaker instanced some of the things for which Kiwanis may always stand, such as orphanages, good roads, law and order, new schools, town boosting, etc. At Nortoll they helped the Kings' Daughters to establish a free clinic; at Ashville they are educating a blind girl in music. There are various ways of raising money for these projects without going down into the individual pocket.

Mr. Selig stated that the district organization consists of the states of Tennessee and Kentucky, the former having twenty-two clubs and the latter thirteen. The five clubs at Middlesboro and Pineville are sponsors for Barbourville. Hal Mould, of Pineville, received complimentary mention from the speaker as being an exceedingly live wire.

Kiwanis has the moral business ethics of the Y. M. C. A., the city boosting of the Chamber of Commerce and the good fellowship of the Shriners, which is a combination.

Mr. Selig warned the members not to expect too much in thirty days, but to develop the co-operative spirit which will surprise everybody in the breaking down of sectionalism, petty jealousy or factionalism. In fact, Kiwanis will change the entire morale of a community and weld it firmly together, even tho split wide open.

G. M. Richards, who has not only the most silky and dulcet tones in his voice, but also the diaphonic peal of distant thunder, was chosen as song leader by acclamation.

The next meeting will be held one week from tonight, April 28th, at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Mountain Advocate Pub. Co.
Barbourville, Ky.

Received copy of paper last week. Was very proud of same and hope to get paper each week. As I spent my boyhood days on the banks of the old Cumberland it is with pleasure I receive accounts of the happenings in and around Barbourville, one of the best towns on the map, or it seems so to me altho I have been away for twenty odd years and I am looking forward each week to the arrival of the Advocate. So please don't overlook a single copy but let it come.

Respectfully,
I. E. Howell.

WELCOME VISITORS HERE

Prof. C. E. Ahler and Joseph Metcalf, of Locust Grove Military Institute near Atlanta, Ga., came in over the weekend on a visit to friends. Prof. Ahler is delighted with his new location and with his band and orchestra. The latter will make a two week's tour as soon as school is out

FIRE AT MIDDLESBORO

Fire destroyed the Summers Grocery and the stock of the Schultz Drug Company in Middlesboro on Thursday of last week. The fire, which started in the Summers Grocery may be traceable to incised oil rags which had been used while painting the store. The damage was approximately $10,000.

W. M. S.

The Woman's Missionary Society met Wednesday, March 29th, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Lay. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. D. Edgar Allen. All joined in singing "Blessed Assurance." We were led in prayer by Mrs. M. L. Williams.

We had a short business meeting after which the following program was carried out:

Bible Study, in charge of Mrs. W. W. Evans, subject, Tithing.

Mrs. W. F. Parker—Two Striking Testimonies.

Mrs. J. W. Croley—The Layman's View on Tithing.

Mrs. Allen—Talk on Tithing.

There being no further business we were dismissed by sentence of prayers.

All ladies of the church are cordially invited to become members of this society.

Mrs. W. F. Parker, Mrs. H. Holman, Mrs. Sudie Sutton, Committee.

FAMOUS EVANGELISTS TO HOLD MEETING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"JUNE"

Did you see "June?" It is difficult to say whether you did or not as the big Union College auditorium was so crowded that it was impossible to say who was there and who was not.

"June" was a SUCCESS and a big success at that. It went off with the snap and spirit of harmony that brought round after round of applause. It is a play built around a boarding house and with clear interest showed us ourselves as others see us, with our traits of generosity, kindness, ignorance—in fact all those jumbled traits that go to make up human character. There was not a fizzle or blunder during the whole evening, showing the effect of real training and an intelligent comprehension of what the drama requires.

Union College never puts on anything tawdry or poor class and we are sure that "June" will stand a trip to some of the surrounding towns and will make a big hit.

We congratulate both Miss Mildred Murphy, the gifted expression teacher, and the students who participated in one of the most high class little plays that has been seen in Barbourville. Such plays brighten life and help us the better to understand its complexities.

ROSEMARY

When Mrs. Geo. F. Tinsley undertakes to stage a play our people are always sure they will be well entertained. Rosemary, staged under the direction of Mrs. Tinsley by a group of Eighth Grade girls for the benefit of the Parent Teacher Association, was well played through. May be the play was a little old or a bit heavy for such young girls but we cannot imagine it being more pleasantly presented. The parts were well memorized and each one knew her cues. Each one deserves special mention which space forbids, but Alice Dodson will always be remembered as a most delightful "old" grandma. Hazel Jones as a charming young girl, while Edna Herschberg, Mary Richardson and Etta Maxey produced a riot of fun.

And once again it gives us pleasure to favorably mention the excellent music furnished by our most accommodating band.

SLIFER

Mrs. Martha Slusher, 79 years of age, died Thursday of last week at her home on Stinking Creek and was buried Saturday.

Dr. E. T. Franklin, Sr., is already making plans for the future career of E. T. Jr., who is with his mother at the Logan Sanitarium, taking life with the joyous abandon which distinguishes the extremely young. Congratulations, the Miss Gail, the youthful daughter, is the somewhat noncommittal as to her sacred season upon which is found the structure of Christ's church. Justment.

Roger H. Fife

Beginning next Sunday morning, April 23, the Fife Evangelistic Company will be at the Christian Church for three weeks conducting services each night at 7:30. This team, consisting of father and son, is one of the strongest and most successful among the Christian Churches.

Roger Fife is a preacher of unusual power. His appeal is to the reason rather than to the emotion of his audience. Robert S., the junior member of the party, is director of music and personal work, singer, slide trombone soloist, reader and impersonator.

Every person in town is invited to hear these men.

"Happy Bob" Fife

AMERICAN LEGION

Will meet in Knox County Armory, Jones Building, Friday night at 7 o'clock. All ex-service men are urged to be present.

The Methodist Church held a very beautiful service Good Friday with some fifty present. The Holy Communion was celebrated as a reminder of the sacrifice of Christ. It is good to note that the evangelical churches are getting back to the somewhat noncommittal as to her ap-earlier customs of the church at this season. The sacred season upon which is found the structure of Christ's church.

THE VICTORY WAY

Is A Combined Insurance Policy and Savings Account

Come in and investigate this splendid method. Will you need $1000 ten years from now? If you die before ten years, will your wife or children need the $1000? If so you had better see us at once.

You make small monthly payments into a savings account, which covers insurance and accumulates funds for your use. In ten years you will deposit $912.20 we will pay you $1000. If you die before you have deposited more than one installment we will pay your family $1000.

If you live the ten years we will pay you the $1000. But you think, suppose I do not want to keep up the account for that long. Well, you can quit any time and we will pay you all money you have deposited and interest on same, less the small premium paid to the Insurance Company for your protection.

You think—Suppose I failed to make deposit when due, would I lose what I have saved? No. You can withdraw your savings any time, or you can make up your lost payments any time during the year.

YOU CAN'T LOSE. Come in and let us explain this splendid savings system to you fully.

GENERAL HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY ADVENT-CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE

by R. N. Baldwin

Adventism started as a distinct religious movement in the United States in 1842, when Wm. Miller, an eloquent and passionate preacher in the Baptist Church in New York State, began to preach with fervor and emphasize the scriptures teaching the immediate and personal second coming of Christ back to earth again to awake the sleeping dead, to judge the world in righteousness and to reward every man and woman so judged according as their work shall be.

Mr. Miller never left the Baptist church, altho persecuted by the leading preachers of all denominations, especially by those of his own denomination. The only doctrine he advocated that was contrary to the accepted doctrines of the Baptist faith was the nearness and certainty of the Second Coming of Christ. He believed that the soul is immortal and that the wicked will suffer eternal torment in an endless and conscious hell.

A branch of the Adventist denomination today who hold the same views held by Rev. Miller is called Evangelical Adventists. They have another branch of Adventists who hold that the wicked will never be raised from the dead—that when a wicked person dies he is dead and unconscious to all eternity. That branch is called Adventist Life believers. Another branch of Adventists is what is called Seventh Day Adventists. They emphasize keeping the seventh day for the Sabbath. They are in harmony with the Seventh Day Baptists and with the Jews upon the Sabbath question.

The Advent Christian denomination is separate and aloof from all these denominations. It holds to the doctrine of the nearness and personal second coming of Christ to earth to judge the world in righteousness and the recompense of every man according as his works shall be.

Adventism is gaining better nearly everywhere than in the Kentucky Mountains. Here it has never been able to attract the people of wealth and prestige as it has done in many other sections of the country. For character and ability its members here are ready to measure arms with the shrewdest and best of all denominations—but numerically we are weak.

In 1896 Elder W. W. Beech came from the mountains of Western North Carolina to preach the glad tidings of a soon coming Saviour back to earth to make restitution for Adam's fall. This restitution is to consist of a new heaven (atmosphere) and a new earth wherein shall dwell only righteous people, and they shall live forever, while the sinner shall be "consumed," "burned up," "become a thing of nothing," "suffer death," "be twice dead plucked up by the roots" and "be as they never had been." — See 2 Peter 3:13; Ps. 104:35; Acts 3:21; Ps. 37: 10-20; Mal. 4:1; Matt. 8:7; Isa. 29:20-41:12; Ps. 21:9-62:3-37:9; Jude 12; Rev. 10: 14-5; Ezek. 18:4-20; Rom. 6:23 Obadiah 1:16; Jer. 10:24.

The preaching of this theology by Bro. Beech aroused bitter antagonism upon the part of preachers of Southeastern Kentucky. Some went so far as to threaten bodily harm to Bro. Beech if he continued to preach such horrible heresies. But he kept on at his self-appointed task of planting the truth of the Bible in Southeastern Kentucky. He was the first Adventist to preach in Kentucky.

In 1896 Elders W. F. Hendrix and S. E. Gragg came from North Carolina to help Bro. Beech. They stayed several months and did much preaching and gave the gospel of conditional immortality a stronger foothold in Kentucky.

Elder J. G. Dula came from West Virginia in 1898 and did much preaching during his sojourn of several months. He was a preacher of prolific eloquence and aroused great enthusiasm. Elders Hendrix and Gragg came back from North Carolina in 1899 to do additional work in this field. A number of churches were organized and Elder J. H. West was ordained to preach the gospel. He was the first native Adventist preacher in Kentucky and has done a big work for the cause.

In 1909 Elders W. F. Hendrix and R. L. Isbell, of the Piedmont A. C. Conference of North Carolina, came, preached a month for us and reorganized the work that had fallen into a bad state of disorder thru the emigration of preachers and members into other fields. This was the beginning over of the Cumberland Valley Adventist Christian Conference.

Elder Joe Sherouse, of Florida, came to our aid in 1920 and stayed three months doing much good. Under his leadership the Conference assumed new ambition and new ideals and is now going forth to conquer.

Needless to relate, the sectarian clergy in Southeastern Kentucky have fought Adventism at each step of its progress. They have heaped foul and merciless persecution upon every preacher of the Adventist faith and upon every member who had the courage to give to every man that asked him a reason for the hope that he had in him. They did all this in addition to dubbing the doctrine as heresy and spurning Adventists as heretics.

Their first attack against Adventism was the "heresy trials" in which they excluded all supposed as well as all known Adventists. When they found "heresy trials" did no good they undertook to debate the matter with Adventist preachers.

Bro. West held one debate with a Methodist minister named McGlamery in Knox County and another with a Christian minister at Camp Ground, Laurel County. Elder Beech held debates with Rev. John Allen and L. W. Hampton, Baptist ministers of Knox County. Elder Hendrix held a four days debate with Rev. Burch, a Baptist minister, on Little Poplar Creek, Knox County.

Elder R. N. Baldwin, who began in 1909 before he was seventeen years old, has held two debates. One with Rev. W. H. Williams, a Christian minister, pastor of the First Church of God, Terre Haute, Ind. This debate, held in the Court House at Barbourville, Ky., lasted four days and nights, each speaker using eight hours. The subject was punishment of the wicked. This was the greatest debate on the subject yet recorded. Elder Baldwin debated the same subject with Dan Roe, a Baptist minister, at Ilmyar, Ky., in 1929.

It is needless to report the results of any of these debates more than to say that they have served to plough the ground we wish to cultivate. What we need is more debate and Adventists are ready to meet all who wish to engage in this wholesome method of disseminating truth.

What we now need is a strenuous and continued campaign to convince sinners that God is a God of Love and a Father of Mercy; that he loves them to the uttermost—even to their eternal destruction—that he wants to save them from their sins.

We need more praying Adventists. We need more paying among Adventists to further the Gospel of Truth. We need not wait until our opposers become convinced that we are right. Most of them in Knox, Whitley and Bell counties are already convinced that we are right and are ready to jump into the band wagon when Adventism becomes popular. Preachers over these three counties are often heard to say, "when you get right down to the way that the Bible reads, the Adventists have the Truth but it is not the popular time to preach their doctrine." We would ask when the proper time will come? People are dying every day without the Truth. These preachers have a chance to give them the bread of Truth to eat; instead they give them the doctrine of the serpent. (Gen. 3:14.) Woe unto such preachers whose god is popularity! —Adv.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

President Franklin and Dr. McLean left Tuesday for a week's trip. Kenneth Tugle was shaking hands with friends on the campus last week. We are always happy to see Kenneth. He gave a snappy little talk to the Academy Seniors Thursday morning.

Miss Norma Carter has returned to her home in Louisville after a week's visit with her sister, Miss Mae Carter.

Jesse Faulkner was in Louisville last week end on business.

Our Annual Athletic Banquet was held in the dining room Monday evening at 5:30. Aunt Mae deserves all credit for a bill of fare that was amply equal to the occasion. Following the meal toasts were given under the direction of Coach Trosper by President Franklin, Governor Black, Editor Burman of the Advocate and Dr. McLean. Dr. Klepfer brought the good time to an end by leading the crowd in the rollicking athletic songs he has written for U. C. this year.

Union College had a delightful surprise in a short Easter visit from Professor Ahler and Joe Medcalf. It was good to have Prof. Ahler with us again—even tho he left his violin, clarinet and saxophone all in Locust Grove, Ga. We did want to hear him in a solo again. Both Prof. Ahler and Joe Medcalf played with the band who furnished the music at the comedy "June."

Lillie Smith, Hester Smith, Fred Wilcox, Creeley Booze, Fern Miller, Eunice Lumpkins and Opal Gray were visitors at their various homes over the Easter week end.

Louie Morris and Thelma Morehead were in Corbin Monday shopping.

The ball game Saturday between Pineville H. S. and U. C. resulted in a score of 2 to 12 in favor of Union.

Emily Howard, a former student, was visiting among the girls over the week end.

WORK OF KNOX COUNTY AGENT

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week Junior Agricultural Club meetings were held at Swan Pond, Swan Lake and Davis Bend with more than one hundred boys, girls and parents in attendance. Much interest was shown in the outlook, especially in the poultry project. It seems that all the hens of the county must have gotten broody at once. About sixty settings of eggs were given out to the club members and orders taken for more than one hundred settings during the week. Boys and girls are making strong efforts to have prize winning poultry at the fairs this summer and fall.

More than one hundred apple, peach, plum, pear and cherry trees and grape vines received the second spraying this season on the farm of G. W. Mayhew this week. Twenty-five apple and peach trees had an application of nitrate of soda fertilizer to demonstrate its use in bringing old trees into heavy production.

Farmers about Barbourville unloaded a carload of acid phosphate last week.

Rheumatism at 60

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering to-night. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest tonics put down to-day. It helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It builds rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs to-night. Mother, if you can't go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again to-night. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

INTERESTED IN SHEEP

In our issue of March 31st we carried an illustration of the Ramboillet ram, which has got Mr. Henry Slusher, of Erose, interested in the breed. In response to a letter on the subject Congressman J. M. Robison is taking the question up with the Department of Agriculture to get all the data possible for Mr. Slusher.

There is no doubt that sheep growing in this section would be profitable. The meat is exceptionally healthful and nutritious. A shoulder of mutton with mint sauce is good, either hot or cold and would add greatly to the farm menu as well as provide ready money for sheep sold at the local markets or shipment by railroad lots.

Where the editor was raised a prize sheep, bought for shipment to improve the flocks of Australia, brought as high as $5,000.

CHEESE MAKING

When one thinks of cheese making, one naturally thinks of a cow, but there is another kind of cheese that is probably more profitable than that of the cow. It is goat cheese.

While in Colorado the editor visited a goat ranch where cheese was made from the milk of the goats and in a little rock house, about 12 feet, and which was not more than half full of cheese the owner said there was some $5,000 worth of goat cheese.

The milking is comical to watch. The goats are brought under a enclosed shed with window like spaces at one side. By these spaces are two steps and back of the steps a seat where the milkers sit. The goats crowd around the milkers anxious to be milked. After being milked the goat is given a slap on the flank or a push and she disappears thru the open space into the corral outside.

This brand of cheese finds ready market in the cities. Knox County, with its brush and hillsides, would readily lend itself to this industry. Kid meat is excellent and the milk is free from the taint of tuberculosi and other diseases that may be found in cows' milk.

Full particulars as to making this cheese may be had from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or thru our Congressman, J. M. Robison.

Uncle Walt's Story

Walt Mason

Illustration of Uncle Walt and his family.

THE FIRST TIME

"I CONFESS that the thought of death always raises gooseflesh on me," said the melancholy hoarder. "The only comfort is that a man dies but once."

"That's what makes it so unpeasant," observed the star hoarder. "If a man died at regular intervals, say once a year, he'd soon get used to it, and regard it as part of the day's work. A man dies and that's the end of him, so far as this world is concerned. He has no chance to come back and bore his friends with a long story about it. If he had that chance it would make a great difference. The ordinary citizen will undergo anything, if he can sit around and talk about it afterward."

"The first time we are up against anything disagreeable is always the worst. We can get used to anything, and enjoy anything, if we have enough of it. We are born optimists, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, always looking around for a grain of comfort, and manufacturing one if there is none in sight."

"I'll never forget the first time I went to see the dentist on professional business. I had been entertaining a rip-snorting toothache for several days. The agony was so great that it would take the pen of a Dante to do justice to it. Yet I couldn't muster up enough courage to go to the dentist's. I had heard so many stories of the atrocities suffering one undergoes at his hands that my warlike spirit faltered. But finally the man who occupied the room next to mine came to my apartment, armed with a large iron poker, and said that I had kept him awake for three nights, and the limit had been reached. If I didn't chase myself out of the house and let him have a night's rest he would proceed to make it few dents in my skull."

"Thus turned adrift into the tempest, the first man I met was a dentist, and he simply forced me to his parlor. He was a friend of the family and wouldn't take 'no' for an answer."

"He had to carry me up the stairway to his office, I had become so weak it the legs. I supposed he would rend me limb from limb, but he really was a painless dentist. In three or, perhaps, four shakes he was holding before my eyes the tooth which had caused all the anguish, and I was enjoying solid comfort once more."

"Since that experience I look upon the modern dentist as a public benefactor, and my one regret is that I can't drop into his office every day or two and have a few teeth pulled. But all my original teeth were extracted by the painless process long ago, and the human virtue teeth I am now wearing are strangers to aches and pains."

"The first time a man is married he is so excited that he forgets the wedding ring or the fee for the preacher or some other essential. For days before the event he is in such a fever that his friends have trouble holding him down; and when at last the fateful hour arrives he doesn't seem like a responsible human being. I always feel sorry for a young bridegroom, he looks so rattled, and he has such a strong resemblance to a total loss."

"But the next time he gets married he is as cool and intrepid as though he made a practice of acquiring a bride before tea every day, and if he goes to the altar three or four times in the course of his useful career, marriage seems to him no more interesting than receiving an automobile catalogue by mail."

"And this is true of everything, Mrs. Jiggers. A man even gets used to a family boarding house, where collections are made strictly in advance and, this being admitted, no further argument is necessary."

BIRTHDAY.

Little Robert D., two and one-half years old, of Franklin, has a ten-year-old cousin, Gordon, who to his baby mind, is the hero in all that takes place, and whatever Gordon says or does is all right. Robert's mother had been telling him about Christmas, and why it was celebrated.

One evening after a strenuous day of play with the big cousin, when mother put Robert to bed, she said:

"And why do we have Christmas, Robert? Whose birthday is it?"

"Santa and Gordie's," promptly replied the youngster, — Indianapolis News.

Dinner—Yes, all but the bit. Just take that back and boil it down a little.

WILL HONOR HEROES

Commonwealth of Kentucky To Raise Funds For Memorial Building at Lexington

Commemoration of the sacrifice of Kentucky heroes in the World War will be the object of thousands of men, women and children of the State during the week of April 23-29 when they go out to raise $300,000 for a memorial building.

Names of the 3,000 who died will be placed on the bronze tablets in the building which will be used daily as a chapel and union by thousands of young people from every section of Kentucky attending the State University at Lexington. Records of Kentucky's part in the war, work of private citizens and of those in the military service, will be kept there in addition to war trophies.

An army of 150,000 school children will start out Monday, April 24, to raise one dollar each. The plan was endorsed by State Superintendent George Colvin and the Kentucky Educational Association at its annual meeting in Louisville. Superintendents, principals and teachers have been requested to assume direction of the school children's soliciting, acting as treasurer and either turning in the funds to the woman County Chairman or sending them to State Headquarters, 210 Fifth Street, Louisville.

Governor Morrow's proclamation follows:

"Those who have not forgotten the courage of the living and the glorious sacrifice of the dead; those who remember the soldiers of the great war who offered and gave themselves for us, will during the week of April 23-29 conduct throughout Kentucky a campaign to raise $300,000 for the purpose of erecting at the University of Kentucky a memorial chapel to perpetuate the lives and deeds and services of the American soldiers of the great war."

"The University of the Commonwealth is linked with the young manhood of Kentucky, and it is therefore fitting that on such a spot there should stand a memorial to the courageous youth of our State. No real monument or other memorial has been erected in Kentucky for this purpose thus far. I am, therefore, confident that this appeal will reach the heart and the purse of the patriotic citizens of the State. We honor ourselves when we honor those who died for us. We make certain that the spirit of yesterday will live throughout our tomorrow if we honor courage and nobility and sacrifice."

"I, therefore, set aside the week of April 23-29 as War Memorial Week, and call upon the men and women of Kentucky, the sons and daughters of the Republic, those who inherit and hold all for which the dead have died to lend their hearts and hands to the success of this campaign. The living offered and the dead gave their lives. We can give out of that which God has given to us that the memory of their deeds shall abide forever with us."

James C. Wilson, of Louisville, who was one of the most successful directors of Liberty Loan campaigns in the South, has been appointed State Chairman for this campaign.

The following poem, dedicating the Kentucky Memorial Building to the fallen heroes, winner of a state-wide contest, was written by Mrs. Eleanor Dunbar Wood, of Maysville:

Dear Motherland, Kentucky, here we bring
The names of these thy sons who nobly died.
Who for Thy sake and Freedom's purpose aside
Young Love, and Lusty Life, and Catt-of Spring,
And strode down Death's dark ways adventuring.

We cannot bring them back; we cannot give
To their young eyes the joy of sunrise, nor
To eager ears that call they barked for
The cardinal among the hills of home.
They live
But in our hearts—and these are fugitive.

We shall go down to dust even as they.

So to Thy Heart, Kentucky, bring we now

These debtless names. A coronet for thy brow

Best-loved, and Beautiful. And thou shalt pay

Unending honor till Time's latest day.

And it shall be throughout the coming years

Young hearts shall proudly read these hero-names

And feel within their own the sacred flames,

"We'll live for what they died for—spite of fears,"

So faith shall spring once more from blood and tears.

Keep safe these names; Thy sons who would not save Themselves at price of Liberty and Tree.

The "Old Kentucky Home" shall hallowed be

Throughout the ages by the blood they gave;

Keep thou them safe. Thy Beautiful and Brave.

This poem will be on marble or bronze and placed in the Memorial Building.

Rev. and Mrs. Carl E. Vogel, of Berea, Prof. and Mrs. S. P. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. David Petrie, Mrs. Will Jarvis and Rev. and Mrs. John Owen Gross were down the river on Monday fishin'. It is probably one of the most truthful reports that has ever come back to town about the catch made. Generally fishermen feel, and have felt from time immemorial, that a fish story, however grandiose, does not partake of the nature of a lie, but Rev. Gross states that the bunch of men caught only about six pounds of fish—a three pound cat and some suckers and perch. It is understood from Petrie, who is a mere tobacco salesman and therefore not so amenable to strict fishing fact, that the catfish was weighed on its own scales.

A TALK WITH A BARBOURVILLE MAN

Mr. L. W. Hampton, Farmer of Barbourville, Tells of Interesting Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Barbourville man:

"After I had the 'flu' about two years ago my kidneys bothered me," says Mr. Hampton. "They were weak and irregular and the kidney secretions were painful in passage. My back was weak and ached thru the small part just over my kidneys. I was lame and sore in the muscles of my hips and side when I got up in the morning. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Hawn Drug Co. and they soon straightened me up in good shape. Doan's are a fine kidney medicine and I will recommend them to anyone whenever I have an opportunity."

THE MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE OFFERS TO BOYS AND GIRLS

The Mountain Advocate is interested in the agricultural development of Knox County and with that end in view is making a SPECIAL OFFER to the Boys and Girls Agricultural Clubs of the County. It is as follows:

That members of the different clubs shall take subscriptions thru the county for the Mountain Advocate at the usual price of $1.50 per year and shall send the subscriptions and names of subscribers to the office of the Mountain Advocate, which in turn, will take 50c of each $1.50 and place same in a fund to pay the way of boys and girls chosen by the different clubs to represent them at the annual Junior Week to be held under the auspices of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, June 19 to 24.

Last year 176 boys and girls attended the meetings and this year it is expected that 300 will be present. We believe the boys and girls will profit largely thru these meetings and that the county will be the better off for what they learn there. We are working in conjunction with Messrs. J. M. Feltner, of London, District Agent of the Boys and Girls Agricultural Clubs, and Earl Mayhew, local County Agent.

We trust citizens of the county will do their share in helping the boys and girls of their different sections by subscribing for the Mountain Advocate, and at the same time will enjoy the newspaper which has received the approving good-will of all who now are subscribers.

We are developing a plan also by which any excess money received thru this method may be used to send boys and girls to the Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville this fall.

It should be understood that the Advocate cannot be issued for $1.00 a year which will be the real price we receive for it under the rules of this offer, but we are anxious to help the boys and girls of the county and at the same time make our people better acquainted with the home paper—The Mountain Advocate.

Hesides the excellent news we carry, the paper is now well printed as we have installed a new press this year, which does fine work. We scraped the old press because we felt that the print did not measure up to what it should. The boys and girls will therefore have no need to feel ashamed of the appearance of the Advocate and may indeed make its clear print, as well as its newness, one of their strong selling points.

The cost of sending a boy or girl to Lexington will be $16.00 and it will therefore be necessary to secure 33 subscriptions for each member of the different clubs who may be chosen to go.

PLAIDS AND FRINGES

Fashion still puts striped materials in the lead for sports skirts, but they have some competition in plaid and checked patterns in all skirt materials. Checks with fringed edges, are reminiscent of shawls and they make many of the smart new models in which the fringe is substituted for a hem at the bottom of the skirt and also flattens the patch pockets. A skirt of this kind appears in the picture above cut on ample lines and having a separate belt of the material. These fringed materials are particularly smart in the new wrapped skirts with the fringed edge arranged to run from belt to hem.

Sport skirts and street skirts are a little longer than they were, the regulation length being from six to eight inches from the floor. Flannel in plain colors, in stripes and plaids, is a rival for gingham and other cloths.

Regrow Lost Parts. Newts and salamanders and the tadpoles of frogs and toads have great powers of regrowing parts that have been bitten off, but, so far as known, lizards are the only backboned animals that show surrender of parts. Among backboned animals it often occurs. This peculiarity is found among sea slugs and other molluscs and in many kinds of worms. In the Pololo worm, which burrows in the coral reefs, nearly the whole of the body is broken off at the breeding season, and it bursts in the water, liberating tens of thousands of germ cells, while the head remains in the rock and makes a new body.

XXIV.—MISSOURI

W HENIER Missouri was actually visited by De Soto at the time of his discovery of the Mississippi is not definitely known. The first authentic exploration of this territory was by the French, Joliet and Father Marquette in 1673. French settlers gradually located in Missouri, in 1764 St. Louis being settled. This was one year after Spain acquired from France the Louisiana Territory of which Missouri was a part.

Colonization greatly increased after the ordinance of 1787, which excluded slavery from the Northwest territory, as this naturally attracted many to the territory west of the Mississippi who otherwise would have settled in the north. The slavery question continued to hold the stage in Missouri history. After the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 added this vast western area to the United States, emigration increased to such an extent that in 1820 Missouri formed a state government and applied for admission to the Union. Bitter antagonism immediately arose in Congress against the addition of another slave state. On the other hand the slavery adherents pointed out that Missouri had just been taken into the Union as a free state and one state would therefore balance the other. A final settlement was made by the famous Missouri compromise, which accepted Missouri as a slave state but prohibited slavery in the rest of the territory north of a line extending from the southern boundary of Missouri to the Rocky Mountains. Indeed, it was this agitation which, temporarily smothered at that time, burst forth in the Civil War.

Missouri is in the forefront of the important states in national politics as it has eighteen electoral votes for president. Its area is 69,420 square miles. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

IX.—NEW HAMPSHIRE

TO NEW HAMPSHIRE falls the honor of casting the vote which definitely formed the United States. The Constitution was to formally take effect when nine states had ratified it and on June 11, 1788, New Hampshire rounded out the necessary quota of the states. This beat Virginia for the deciding vote by only four days.

The beginnings of New Hampshire lead back to Capula Mason, who had been governor of Portsmouth in New Hampshire, England. Thus was the name of the colony derived and also that of its first city, Portsmouth. As a reward for Mason's faithfulness to King Charles he was allotted a large territory north of the Merrimac river. The first settlements were started in 1623 in Rye and Dover. Shortly after, a theological dispute arose in Boston, led by Mrs. Anne Hutchinson, which resulted in her being banished. Some of her followers went north and founded Exeter, not far from the towns of Portsmouth and Dover. Shortly after the town of Hampton was settled by Massachusetts people. As Captain Mason died soon after this, these four towns in 1641 joined themselves to Massachusetts. In 1679, however, King Charles II separated them again and formed the royal province of New Hampshire.

The present area of New Hampshire is 9,311 square miles. From the rugged aspect of its White mountains has come the name Granite state, by which it is often popularly called. The population of New Hampshire warrants an electoral vote of four for president.

Newts and salamanders and the tadpoles of frogs and toads have great powers of regrowing parts that have been bitten off, but, so far as known, lizards are the only backboned animals that show surrender of parts. Among backboned animals it often occurs. This peculiarity is found among sea slugs and other molluscs and in many kinds of worms. In the Pololo worm, which burrows in the coral reefs, nearly the whole of the body is broken off at the breeding season, and it bursts in the water, liberating tens of thousands of germ cells, while the head remains in the rock and makes a new body.

WHY I GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

This is a broad subject; there are so many things to be taken into consideration, but we will touch upon only a few of the many.

Since God placed Adam in the Garden of Eden there has been some plan of worship for the different classes of God's children. Some people have worshiped a river as their god; some have worshipped mountains, or minerals within them, stars, and various other things. Even the fierce savages of central Africa worship a god of some kind. Indeed, it was this agitation which, temporarily smothered at that time, burst forth in the Civil War.

Missouri is in the forefront of the important states in national politics as it has eighteen electoral votes for president. Of course, it is true that you may have Mission Study classes that meet some time in the week or at other times, but rarely ever do you see the interest manifested there that you see in the Sunday School room. All churches that are properly organized have their own Sunday Schools.

Show me a church that does not have a good spiritual and interested Sunday School and I will show you a church that is going down very fast. So that is one reason that I go to Sunday School.

Now we take up the "Bible Study." A Sunday School is one of the best places to make a complete study of the holy and sacred old Book. Of course, it is true that you may have Mission Study classes that meet some time in the week or at other times, but rarely ever do you see the interest manifested there that you see in the Sunday School room. All churches that are properly organized have their own Sunday Schools.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. C. Hird does not play poker, but he does like to call his opponent's bluff.

Geo. W. Tye is trying to counteract the auto monopoly by putting collars and breeching on his horses as an attraction.

Miss Cora Sevier manages to be in the swim most of the time.

Reciprocity: That law which enables Jake Raskick, of Cole, Hughes & Co., to keep the accounts which keep him.

Owing to the name he has we do not see why Gus Hauser is not in the house building business.

One reason for Miss Laura Hayes popularity is that she "suits" so many people.
